CPP31318 - Certificate III in Security Operations

This qualification supports progression as a security officer and also supports licensing for bodyguarding in South Australia and Cash In Transit licensing in Queensland. Apply for RPL today to see what your options are.

CLET offers RPL in the CPP31318 Certificate III in Security Operations to current and former police and military. The CLET CPP31318 Certificate III in Security Operations meets the licensing requirements for specific options in Queensland and South Australia.

This qualification does require a security license be held as a pre-requisite for assessment.

The CPP31318 Certificate III in Security Operations supports licensing requirements for a number of different roles such as bodyguarding and cash in transit, when combined with the CPP31418 Certificate III in Close Protection Operations.

The different licensing opportunities arise from the different units of competency. You do not need to know which units are required as CLET closely monitors all licensing requirements across Australia and will combine the units for you. You can simply ask for assessment for all possible roles in your State or Territory, or specify which role you are seeking licensing for, and CLET will do the rest.

Listed below are all possible units offered for combination by CLET and cover areas such as bodyguarding, cash-in-transit, batons and handcuffs. The CLET RPL Team will present you with the options available to you following assessment.

Please note: CLET does not offer any weapons units of competency for licensing.
